

By the Judgement of 23 June 2020 No. 28-II the Constitutional Court of the Russian Federation appraised constitutionality of Article 4.6 and Article 32.2, Section 1.3 of the Code of Administrative Offences of the Russian Federation.

The challenged provisions were the subject of consideration to the extent that they serve the basis for determining the period when a person is considered to have been subjected to administrative punishment if the administrative fine imposed on such a person has been paid in half before the entry into force of the judgment in the case of an administrative offense.

The challenged provisions were found to be inconsistent with the Constitution of the Russian Federation to the extent that they do not allow determining the procedure for calculating the indicated period.

Until the relevant legislative amendments are introduced, the challenged provisions should be considered as establishing that for persons who have paid an administrative fine in half before the decision has entered into legal force, the period during which such persons are considered to have been subjected to administrative punishment shall end after a year from the day of payment of the administrative fine prescribed thereby.
