

By the Judgement of 2 March 2023 No.7-II, the Constitutional Court of the Russian Federation assessed constitutionality of Article 17, item 2 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

Above mentioned legal provision become subject of consideration insofar as in the system of current legal regulation it serves as a basis for deciding the question of the possibility of compensation for moral damage caused to a child in connection with the death of the father, which occurred before his birth.

The challenged legal provision was found not to contradict the Constitution of the Russian Federation, since by its constitutional and legal meaning in the system of current legal regulation it does not imply its application as a basis for denying compensation for moral damage in such a case.
