

By the Judgement of 18 July 2024 No.39-II, the Constitutional Court assessed constitutionality of Article 32.2 (part 1³⁻³) of the Code of Administrative Offences of the Russian Federation.

The above-mentioned legal provision has been considered insofar as it serves as a basis for granting the possibility of preferential payment (50%) of an administrative fine imposed for an administrative offence detected in the course of an inspection performed by the prosecutor.

The challenged provision was found to be inconsistent with the Constitution of the Russian Federation to the extent that, according to the meaning given to it by judicial interpretation, it does not provide for the possibility of preferential payment of an administrative fine in the circumstances of this case.

Until appropriate legislative changes are made, the possibility of preferential payment of the fine should be granted in the event that an administrative offence is detected in the course of an inspection performed by the prosecutor.
